

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

Club Meetings.

October:- The regular monthly meeting of the Club was held in the club room at the State Museum, University of Washington, Wednesday evening, October 6th. The meeting was called to order by Vice President Bowles, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. R. C. Steele of Seattle; S. E. Piper (U.S. Biol. Survey) of Albuquerque, New Mexico; Alfred M. Bailey (U.S. Biol. Survey) of Juneau, Alaska; and L. D. Lindsley of Seattle, were elected to membership. Dr. Walter P. Taylor of the U. S. Biological Survey, gave an interesting resumé of the work during the past summer of the biological party across the Cascade Mountains near the international boundary. Mr. George G. Cantwell, who was a member of the same party, followed with a talk illustrated by the specimens which he collected during the trip. Meeting then adjourned.

November:- The regular monthly meeting of the Club was held at the State Museum on Wednesday evening, November 3rd. The meeting was called to order by Secretary Warburton in the absence of both the President and Vice President. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Prof. R. H. Palmer and Prof. Horace Gunthorp, both of the University of Washington, and Dr. Lee R. Dice of the Museum of Zoology at the University of Michigan, were elected to membership. A general discussion of the observations of the members present then followed. C. J. Albrecht of the State Museum told of his experiences in bringing up some young beavers which were caught in the vicinity of Mt. Baker and which he later turned over to the Zoo at Woodland Park. Meeting then adjourned.

December;- The regular monthly meeting of the Club was held at the State Museum on Wednesday evening, December 1st, President F. S. Hall presiding. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved, the following persons were elected to membership in the Club: Dr. Russell T. Congdon of Wenatchee, Wn., W. J. Hipsley and J. S. Hodges of Seattle. A motion was presented and carried that this club indorse the bill proposed by D. E. Brown for the private collection of mammals; this bill to be presented at the coming session of the State Legislature. Following the provisions of the constitution and by-laws, the following nominations were made for officers for the coming year: President,- F. S. Hall; Vice President,- J. Hooper Bowles; Secretary-Treasurer,- A. M. Winslow. Prof. Robert H. Palmer gave an interesting account from his own observations of the life histories of some of our more common birds. Mr. Joe Bernard, who had just returned after a four years sojourn in the Arctic in the vicinity of Coronation Gulf, then presented some interesting data on the nesting habits of certain birds which he had observed while there, particularly mentioning the Knot (Tringa canutus Linn.). The meeting then adjourned.

January:- The annual meeting and election of officers took the form of a dinner which was held in the banquet room at the University Commons on Wednesday evening, January 5th. After the dinner had been served, President Hall called the meeting to order, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Upon the recommendation of the membership committee, Dr. H. D. Vail of Quincy, Wn., Kenneth Racey of Vancouver, B.C., and Prof. A. H. Benefiel of Spokane, Wn., were elected to membership in the Club. Prof. A. M. Winslow declining the nomination of Secretary-Treasurer for the coming year, the name of Robt. H. Palmer was presented and approved. The Club then proceeded as per the constitution and by-laws, to the election of officers for 1921. The ballots were spread and the nominated officers declared elected, viz., F. S. Hall, President; J. Hooper Bowles, Vice President, and Robt. H. Palmer, Secretary-Treasurer. President Hall then gave a short resume of the activities of the Club during the past year, after which he directed a general round table talk on subjects of interest to all. The meeting then adjourned.